

For Bruises

Omega Oil

It would hardly be truthful to say Omega Oil cures Bruises and Sprains and Strains. Nature herself does most of the curing, but the Oil stops the pain while the bruised place is being cured. The pain is what annoys you, and Omega Oil must be given the credit for fixing you up so you will not suffer. Omega Oil soothes, softens and comforts any pain you apply it to. If the pain is not too great, the Oil is to be well rubbed in. This sets up a good circulation of the blood, and the result is always beneficial. Besides rubbing, some of the Oil should be bound around the ailing part. Three sizes: 10c., 25c., 50c.

Corporation Commission Requires Railroad to Adopt Schedules.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

RALEIGH, N. C., November 26.—State Superintendent of Public Instruction J. Y. Joyner returned this morning from Charlottesville, Va., where he attended the Conference of Southern Educators to consider the unification of secondary schools with the work in the public schools and the colleges and universities. Mr. Joyner says the conference is sure to result in a vast amount of good in the closer co-operation between the universities in the Southern States, the State superintendent of schools and the professors of secondary education in providing a uniform and unified public school system of public education that will afford every child an opportunity to get the education he is capable of and will make the necessary sacrifice to secure.

Superintendent Joyner says this was his first visit to the University of Virginia and that he was delighted with it and the evidences of rapid development under the administration of Dr. Alderman. He says he is satisfied there is a great future before the university, and that it will fulfill in the highest degree the great destiny seen for it by the prophetic eye of its founder.

CONFEDERATE ROSTER IS NOW COMPLETE

Government Has Names and Official Position of Every Southerner in Civil War.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 26.—The compilation of the Confederate roster of the roster of officers and enlisted men of the Union and Confederate Armies, provided for in an act of Congress in 1862, was found by the War Department to be a very difficult task, on account of the incompleteness of the Confederate collection in possession of the department. During the year a considerable number of records of North Carolina and Virginia Confederate organizations and a few organizations from Florida, Mississippi and Texas, were received by loan, and these were carefully copied. During former years the work had progressed slowly from records from Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia and Kentucky. In order to make the roster as complete as possible, data is being taken from the Union records of Confederate prisoners. Up to the date the whole number of index record cards prepared from the Confederate roster is 2,300,461.

ROBBER LOSES RESPECT FOR THEM

Passengers Hand Over Money in Surprising Way—All Cowards, Says Truchart.

KANSAS CITY, November 26.—After having robbed a score of passengers in three cars of an eastbound express train, a lone robber was disarmed by the conductor, made to disgorge, and handed over to the authorities at the next stopping place. The robbery occurred on the Chicago and Alton road, between Slater and Armstrong, Mo., about one hundred miles east of here. The train reached Slater at midnight, and when it started out of that place, five minutes later, a masked man boarded the smoking car. He crept toward the rear of the train, and when he was within a few feet of the rear car, he leveled a revolver at two passengers in the seat nearest the door, he ordered them to pass over their money and valuables, and to do it quickly. The men complied, and the robber placed the stuff beneath his belt. When the robber had systematically robbed the passengers in the smoker of their belongings, he passed to the door, keeping them covered. It was a twenty-five-minute run from Slater to Glasgow, and he awaited the arrival at the latter place.

Chair-Car Next.

As the train stopped at Glasgow he swung off and boarded the chair-car as it rushed by a moment later. Through the chair-car the robber's tactics in the smoker were repeated. He entered a sleeper and began again his command to the luckless passengers to surrender their valuables. Conductor Heywood appeared upon the scene here, and the robber snatched his revolver at him, and probably the only thing that saved the conductor's life was that the hammer descended on his thumb. Leaving the revolver in the grasp of the conductor, Heywood followed closely, after firing one shot, and grabbed him by the coat collar as the robber was trying to jump from the car. The robber snatched from his coat, and clinging to the side rail of the car with one hand, Heywood fought him into submission on the steps of the swiftly-moving car.

Tiny Hands and Feet Lead to Exposure of Girl Working in Boy's Clothes.

CHILLICOTHE, OHIO, November 26.—Russell Elliott, nineteen and pretty, was arrested here to-day while seeking employment at different factories attired in boy's clothing. Elliott is a railroad man and left here two weeks ago, about the time that Russell left her home at Greenburg, Ind. She assumed the disguise at Dayton Friday and then came here.

Women at the Logan Auto Works suspected her, owing to her pretty hands and feet, but she had deceived all the men, and as one place was offered work by the superintendent, who remarked about "his honest face."

KING GEORGE AND POPE VERY CORDIAL

Visit to His Holiness Lasted Half Hour—Sovereign Evidently Pleased.

ROME, November 26.—King George of Greece, accompanied by his daughter, the Grand Duchess Michaelovitch, of Russia, visited the Pope to-day, and were most cordially received. After leaving the Quirinal, King George drove to the British Embassy, where his daughter was stopping, and with her entered a private carriage and were driven to the Vatican, where they were received with royal honors by the members of the Papal Court. The Pope welcomed the visitors in the throne room, Mr. Deland, Archbishop of Athens, acting as interpreter. The audience lasted half an hour.

The hesitation of the King to visit the Pope was caused by the feeling in Greece against Roman Catholics. The efforts of the late Pope Leo to bring about a reunion of the Oriental Church with the Church of Rome caused so much resentment in Greece that King George was the only sovereign who did not congratulate Pope Leo on the jubilee of his pontificate into the priesthood. The King, however, showed that he was satisfied with the manner in which he had been received by the Pope to-day, when, later, he visited the Papal Secretary of State, Cardinal Merry del Val.
